

PASTOR'S POINT

Steward ship

As we start October I have decided to take this month to discuss stewardship in its many different aspects. What are your views on stewardship? Is it something you have even really considered? Our view of stewardship is played out in our lives every day as we make financial decisions, voting, property acquisitions, buy things, ect. We live out our beliefs whether we realize it or not. I want to challenge you this month to look at how and why you make decisions. Do your decisions reflect what you profess to believe or do they say something else. Many of us will be given a nice gift this week of $1300 what will we do with it and what does that say about us?
